Olin 28.10-1.11 mökillä Karjalohjalla kuuntelemassa ja risuja polttamassa. Kelit eivät varsinaisesti suosineet mutta raportteja syntyi lähes 30. En käytä erillistä pedisnimimerkkiä, koska kaikki lokaukseni ovat mökiltä (paitsi Lapin pedikset).

Clusivessa no. 15 14.10 oli Rollen (RS) erinomaisia NA-lokauksia. Jostain syystä nimimerkki oli muuttunut HS:ksi. Tilastonikkarit huomiokoon tämän.

Viime aikoina on taas otettu kantaa Herra Bellabarban toimintatapoihin. Netissä on ehdotettu lehtivaihdon lopettamista "leikkisää" DX-kuuntelua harrastavan PlayDX:n kanssa. Mikä on Clusiven tilanne? Eiköhän vaihdon lopettaminen välittömästi olisi jo paikallaan?

Päätoimittaja vastaa:

Pahoittelen RS:n ja HS:n sekoittamista. Munaus on minun, enkä sille selitystä pysty keksimään. Näitä virheitä ei tehdä sillä taka-ajatuksella, että ihmisiä painostettaisiin käyttämään loki-ohjelmaa (sehän nyt vielä puuttuisi), mutta lähettämällä lokaukset cll-tiedostoina tulisivat nimimerkit taatusti oikein.

DX-Clusive on lopettanut lehtivaihdon Play-DX:n kanssa jo maaliskuussa 2001. Sinnikäs Mr. DM halusi vielä tämänkin jälkeen asiasta Suomen DX-Liiton virallisen kannanoton, jonka hän tietävästi myös sai. Päätöksellä ei ole elämöity, ikävästä asiastahan on kyse, mutta lehtivaihtoa Play-DX:n kanssa ei siis enää ole ollut.

Asiasta kiinnostuneet voivat pyytää minulta sähköpostitse lisätietoja.

DX-Clusiven www-sivuston pääsivulla, sillä kaikille avoimella, on imuroitavissa loki-ohjelma, sen uusimmat asematiedostot, ja MW-tilasto. Samalla sivulla on myös lueteltu ne DX-julkaisut, joiden kanssa DXCL harrastaa lehtivaihtoa. Play-DX ei näiden julkaisujen joukossa ole. (JLN)

Näytti jälleen kerran livahtavan Tehorankin stopdate Radiomaaailmassa huomaamatta. Mainitaan siis tiedot edes Clusiven puolella, kun näyttää vuosittain jäävän ison lehden palsta väliin. Viimeisen parin vuoden aikana tulleet vastaukset ovat auttaneet joidenkin maanosien kohdalla niin, että sain lopultakin kilowatin rajan rikki. Saldo on nyt 0,969 kilowattia. Tämäkin pieneni vielä, jos pari kierroksessa olevaa vastaisi.

Although my RR was in French, he informs me that the Congo is a French speaking country. Since people don't understand English they apparently couldn't read my letter. However, he did close indicating he needs a mobile phone,

SOUTH AFRICA

Report from South Africa: 567, Cape Talk is my only local daytime MW station, but only comes in on the DX 1 Pro and not my portables. The station is supposed to be 50 kW, but often I suspect it is a lot less. I am surprised you [Rocco Controneo in Rio de Janeiro] get R. 702, the sister station to 567 Cape Talk, as although it is a full strength 100 kW station, it has a very effective curtain [sic] antenna that beams South. So although 567 Cape Talk is only 200 kilometers away, the R. 702 station comes in much more clearly and powerfully in the evening, even though it is some 1400 kilometers distant. Whilst these two stations are sisters, they carry separate programming - all talk show format, but at night the programming is sometimes the same. R. Islam is going strong on 1548 from its near Johannesburg transmitter site, and regrettably blocks R. St. Helena and Capital R. London, which I used to enjoy before R. Islam blocked them. R. Today on 1485 is an interesting station, run and owned by a group of aged retired broadcasters. The format is some talk and lots of "golden oldies" type music in English. The studio operates from a truck, concealed under a tent in a US military base and operates 18 hours a day. (Dxing Info, BC-DX #589)

801 It was reported at the recent EDXC conference that the planned VOA relay in Afghanistan would use 801 kHz (Dave Kenny, Sept BDXC-UK Communication via DXLD). See Tajikistan!

The recent address of Radio Afghanistan is: Ministry of Information & Culture, General Presidency of Radio & TV, Planning & Foreign Relations Department, General Managing of Foreign Relations, P.O.Box 544, Kabul, Afghanistan. Note "P.O.Box 544, Kabul", which was used by "Voice of Shari'ah", and former "Radio Afghanistan", is still ALIVE! (Takahito Akabayashi, Japan, BC-DX Aug 10 via DXLD) MV Eko

ARMENIA

Thought that you'd like to know that the VOA is using the Yerevan-ARM, on 4810, 1315-1530 for sces in Armenian and other langs of the region. At other times, this tx/freq is used for regular Radio Yerevan/Voice of Armenia sces. (Bob Padula-AUS, edxp BC-DX #593, Sep 22) This is obviously a misunderstanding of DX info from another source. There is "VOA" on 4810 at these times and in these langs, but "VOA" stands here for "Voice of Armenia", not "Voice of America". Some DX sources tend to confuse these terms. (wb, Oct 21) 11100 is quite fair here near Toronto at 2030Z right now. As you note it is not // to the 15515 "Mandarin Jammer" which has been joined recently by 11785 in // from 1900- . This latter channel totally trashes a muchweaker VOI that seems parked afternoons here most days on its usual freq of about 11784.86 to Europe -2100. VOI seems to have vacated 15150v for the season, but I have not heard it on the Europe-reported 9525 yet. 11785 and 15515 have a much stronger drum component than 11100 during the little time I have listened to it. As a jammer, I must confess, I find it almost as effective as the Dieselenes the Russians used to use. (G) Now if they would only play the beautiful music of the Banda Sea region for us. The CNR sces to Taiwan, CNR-5 and CNR-6, have been operating irregularly at least on Thursday and Friday. On Thursday the operating hours of most txs were much reduced and on Friday at least 11000, 11100 and 15880 did not go on the air at all. Maybe these txs are now in turn for modernization. They are part of the major domestic (including Taiwan) scesite near Beijing with 16 x 50 kW. These txs are used for CNR-2, CNR-5, CNR-6 and CNR-8. (Olle Alm-SWE, BC-DX Oct 25)

1071 R Ma'aref (presentation). Schedule: 2330-2030 in the summer. Their web page gives by mistake 107,1MHz! I do not know if the transmitter location is Qom or Tehran, they announce "Inja Qom ast, shabakeye Ma'aref ...". It is strange, because Qom seems to have a provincial programme on 1467,1, also 24hrs! KYRGYZSTAN

4050 It seems that some words of clarification are needed in order to prevent a misunderstanding about the UNID stn on 4050 kHz. It is a widespread belief in the DX-scene that SW bcers own the txs they are using. As many of you know, this is often not the case, and this also concerns Kyrgyzstan. All txs in the country (FM/MW/SW) are owned by a branch of the Ministry of Telecommunications. Kyrgyz State R and private bcers are only renting them. So, if the technical chief of Kyrgyz State R (KTR) is stating that his stn is not using 4050 kHz, it only means that KTR stopped renting this txs. It can be used now by any other bcer (which it apparently is). (Bernd Trutenau-LTU, BC-DX Oct 23) DXLD

NEPAL

Took me a while, but I finally got myself set up again here in Kathmandu. Am presently listening to one of the two 15 min En bcs by R Nepal on 5005. They are aired at 0215-0230 and 1415-1430 UT. Supposedly also on 3230 and 7165, but monitoring these freqs over the last two weeks hasn't been successful. Even though these two freqs keep appearing in just about every publication, they really seem to be inactive. Not too sure about 7165 though. Could just be heavily QRM'd by both RTM Sarawak with BBC/English on 7160 and Xizang BS with Mandarin from Lhasa/Tibet (which is just a couple of miles up the hills, so to speak) on 7170 kHz. 3230 is definitely dead as a dodo.

[...] almost forgot to mention: R Nepal is now also QRV on 6100 kHz. Don't know for how long this has been the case. Hope some of you manage to catch them sometime. Good hunting!!! P.S. As to the ominous absence of txions on 3230 - well, either they dropped that freq or they're working on their antennas. I recently drove by the Khumaltar TX site and saw some work going on there. While R Nepal just praised the latest successes of the security forces in their fight against the Maoist rebels we got here, there was a big bang with windows shaking and all, just 15 mins ago. Sounds like they set off another bomb somewhere in town. Yesterday we had four bombs go off within an hour! Oh well... OMAN

Looks like the BBC has moved over completely to the new site at A'Seela. Acc to the B-02 full use is being made of this facility and nothing is coming from the old Masirah Isl site. Evidently the new site is using 800 kW on MW and 250 kW on SW. Coordinates for the new station are 59E27 and 21N57. A'Seela is located near the town of Ashkirah in the South East of Oman. The statement I made was based on looking at the info supplied by the BBC so could well be open to discussion :) . It's about time this relay was opened, it's been in the pipeline for long enough!

This is the current state of BBC operations in Oman: The Masirah Isl site has stopped all HF feeds and are now being dealt by the Oman Relay. Masirah Isl are still transmitting MF feeds, however that is due to cease by the end of the year, and Oman will then transmit those as well. (Sean G4UCJ, hcdx Oct 25) DXLD

PAKISTAN

1305 Five years after work started on installing a MW transmitter for Radio Pakistan at Larkana, it is still not in operation. But the station is finally expected to go on the air in the first week of October. A report on The Dawn Web site says that delays in providing an electric power connection to the transmitter site, near Chuaharpur, are behind the problem. An application was submitted in 1996, and work on the stn began in 1997, but the power still hasn't been connected. Larkana is currently operating on FM, but will cover a much wider area when the 10 kW transmitter on 1305 kHz is finally switched on. ({c} RNWMN NL) MV Eko

TAJIKISTAN

In reply to an observation of Bjarne Melde, Norway, about a possible silence of 648 kHz: this is the same 1000 kW transmitter in Orzu which is used also on 972 kHz, and since 972 kHz is now used almost around the clock with various foreign relays, the frequency 648 kHz is silent. The FS of Radio Tajikistan is now transmitted via Dushanbe 1143/7245 and Orzu 1161 kHz. (Bernd Trutenau, Lithuania, Sept 4, DX LISTENING DIGEST) MV Eko

801 IBB monitoring material indicates the reactivation of the Tajik frequency 801 kHz. This frequency was used by a transmitter in Orzu with Moscow Radio 1, until it was closed in the early 1990s. The Geneva Plan limits the power to 200kW, it is unknown what power was used for Radio 1, or what power will be used after a reactivation now. (Bernd Trutenau via MWDX 6.9.2002)

IBB is conducting tests via Orzu 801 kHz with ca. 500 kW ND at various times. This transmitter was carrying Ostankino Radio 1 until the early 1990s when it was closed. Reportedly the tests consist of relays of VOA in English. (Bernd Trutenau-LTU, 18.9.2002)

Australia to have another SW bcer?

Queensland-based Station X

<<http://www.stnx.com.au>> says it has been allocated a SW freq by the Australian Communications Authority. The allocation is for 2368.5 kHz with a power of 1 kW. According to the stn's Web site, 95% of SW radios can receive this frequency.

Station X also has plans to open a number of txs in the extended MW band: Gold Coast North 1692 kHz, Gold Coast South 1665 kHz, Adelaide 1692 kHz and Melbourne 1656 kHz. Station X originally operated on FM as an "aspirant community bcer", but closed down in November 2001 after failing to gain a permanent community being licence. The stn re-opened as a commercial Webcaster in June 2002, and says it will begin being over the air as soon as possible. Negotiations are under way with Gold Coast City Council for permission to build 40 metre high txion towers. ({c} RNWMN, DXLD Oct 28)

As at Oct 30, the Australian Communications Authority has no record of any licence being issued for 2368.5 kHz. Very rigid guidelines are imposed for any Australian applicant wishing to operate in the HF bands, (2300-26100 kHz) to ensure compliance with recently enabled Federal legislation concerning content. The Dept of Defence is authorised to operate on 2376.0 kHz, Australia- wide, Land Mobile, Ambulatory (Initial), callsign AXA210. (Bob Padula-AUS, WoR Oct 30) Topnews

GUAM

NEW AWR TRANSMITTER ON THE AIR.

The two original txs, KSDA1 & KSDA2, are now sixteen years old and the second pair of txs, KSDA3 & KSDA4, are now seven years old. All four txs are rated at 100 kW; the first pair was constructed by Thomson CSF in France and the second pair by Continental in the United States. The two Continentals have been sold, and one has already been removed from the site. The sale of the two original Thomson txs at stn KSDA is pending.

During all of these radio events on Guam, there was another SW stn under construction in SoAfrica. This stn was located at Langefontein on the west coast of SoAfrica, one hour from Cape Town. This tx base was planned for a full capacity of nine[!!] SW txs at 100 kW, though only eight were installed. At the same time, another SW stn was also planned for installation elsewhere in SoAfrica with a full complement of four[!!] txs at 100 kW. The txs were purchased but the project was never implemented.

This large SW stn at Langefontein was set up by the military in the previous era of govt to cover SoAfrica, and when South Africa became a democracy in 1994, the Defense Force no longer had need for this site and it was moth-balled. Construction of the Langefontein stn began in 1989, and the project was completed in 1992. Recently, the govt of South Africa contracted with Sentech (Pty) Ltd to dismantle the SW stn at Langefontein. Sentech is the common carrier for bcng in South Africa and cares for all txion facilities and the delivery of progrming to each tx site.

Arrangements were made for AWR to procure four of the installed txs from Langefontein. AWR also purchased one of the yet unused txs which was intended for installation at Sentech's SW stn at Meyerton near Johannesburg. It was still contained in its original crates. All five of these txs are ABB-Thomcast units from Switzerland and each is rated at 100 kW.

The first of these new txs from Sentech in South Africa is now on the air at AWR on Guam. Originally this unit was designated as Langefontein No 2 and it is now on the air as KSDA3. It was placed into regular sce at 1000 UTC on Sept 26.

The next ABB tx from Langefontein to be placed into sce at AWR Guam has already been installed and it will replace tx KSDA4. It is currently being tested and commissioned, and the changeover date is expected to be around mid-December. The entire modernization project is expected to be completed later next year. Four new txs will be on the air in regular sce and the fifth will be a hot-standby replacement for use through the antenna switching matrix if a problem occurs in any of the other units.

Reception reports on the new KSDA3 are welcome and you can ask for a special endorsement on your QSL card confirming the usage of this new tx. (Adrian Peterson-USA, AWR Wavescan Oct 27) Topnews
